

Camp

This is a game of skill that is playable at multiple levels simultaneously. This was great for socialization with typical peers and was a favorite as students competed to answer questions about nature. Each question had four levels of complexity, so the competition was fair and exciting despite the differing ability levels of the players.

Socializing and playing “Camp”. A favorite.